DrGENIE

Respect • Empathy • Commitment

FOR PHD STUDENTS AT CHALMERS

Experiencing Unwanted Behaviour?

Unwanted behaviour ranges from microaggressions to harassment.

Microaggression

gossip · offensive jokes · exclusion

Often unintentional. Subtle but harmful.

Harassment

bullying · sexual harassment · abuse of power

Serious, often deliberate. Always reportable.

REPORTING PATHWAY

Four Levels of Escalation

Start at Level 0. Escalate only as needed. Every level is a valid stopping point.

Every step is optional. Only take it if you feel safe doing so.

0 Communicate

Talk it out first.

Consider speaking directly with the person. They may not realize the impact.

1 Report

Make it official.

Consider talking to your line manager and/or consider filing an incident report on IA.

2 Seek support

Not comfortable with your line manager?

Consider talking to a trusted colleague and seek support below. Route to HR, Dept. Head, or DOMB (for PhDs) if escalation is needed.

3 External options

Routes outside the company.

You may also raise the matter with the Equality Ombudsman (Diskrimineringsombudsmannen, DO) or the police, should you choose to.

Document everything. At every level, keep dated records: events, statements, messages, witnesses.

SUPPORT & RESOURCES

Available at any level

Counselling

For PhDs

PE3

Healthcare service · 1 anonymous therapy session.

Kurator

Confidential advice & problem-solving.

DrGENIE Reps

Peer contacts in your department

Respect · Empathy · Commitment

PhD peer representatives in your department. Reach out anytime — no formal report required.

Chalmers PhD resources

Scan and get live support

For more information, please refer to further resources.

You are not alone. Support is available at every step.

DrGENIE · Respect · Empathy · Commitment